The President's Daily Routine.

President Johnson is a leading member of the working class, and it may be doubted if any mechanic or day laborer more fairly earns his bread by the sweat of his brow—and brains. Were it not for the relief of two Cabinet days in the week (Tuesday and Friday,) when none but the heads of Departments are granted an interview no physical constitution, however strong, could endure the exhausting labor he performs. The Washington Star gives the following interesting sketch of the daily life and work of the President of the United States:

There is no office of the Government so burdened with responsibility and a x'ety, and no man living required to listen to such an endless recital of private griefs, as unsophisticated visitors pour into the President's ear at every public interview. President Johnson has few equals in industry. He rises at 6 and until breakfast, at half-past 7, looks over the newspapers.

Immediately after breakfast he goes to the Executive apartments and commences the labors of the day. First, there are bundles of letters to be read, and the replies dictated to the secretaries. Application for appointments, promotions discharges from the army and navy, political advice, petitions for Executive clemency, and innumerable other subjects to be disposed of, but before half completed the visitors have commenced to flock into the ante-rooms and thrust their cards upon him. Pardon-seekers swarm on every hand.

After the most important business of the morning has been disposed of, the visitors are admitted one by one, and the President submits himself to the artesian process. This lasts till about half-past 1 or two, sometimes 3 o'clock, when the doors of his appartment are opened and the whole crowd admitted.

The President's manner at such times is always pleasant, and gives confidence to the most timid. His decisions are quick, and each individual who lays his case before the President learns in half a dozen courteous words the final decision.

In addition to all these duties it it must be remembered that there are distinguished visitors constantly presenting themselves. Representatives of foreign Courts, Governors, Senators, Generals, and hundreds of lesser magnitude, must be received, each having some important subject requiring care and delibereration, while over all towns the great and ever presents problem of reconstruction. Cabinet days and the Sabbath afford three days of rest from the petty and exhausting annoyances that be et the President; but at no time is he free from the oppressive weight of national difficulties which now, more than ever before, obscure the future.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1866.

Another Contrast.

There are one thousand and seventy-nine public school teachers training the "young idea" in California. Think of it, ye polygamous "saints," who boast that the Golden State is indebeted to Mormonism for its early settlement and subsequent greatness! An entire regiment of disciplined teachers, employed by the State to educate its youth, while Utah remains without even an organization approaching any thing like a free school system! Is it not a suggestive thought that this self-styled "mother of the Western States and Territories"—the earliest settled lying directly in the great pathway of the west—should be so far behind the youngest of them all in relation to that ever important question—the education of the people? California, Oregon, Nevada, Washington, Idaho, Montana, all either have or are rapidly perfecting excellent systems of public free schools, those Palladiums of our Liberty and national honor, while Utah, cursed by a superstitious and debasing priestcraft, lies groveling beneath an incubus of moral and intellectual apathy, flattering herself with the conceit that she exhibits the model of virtue and the very excellence of wisdom! How long shall this inexcusable stupidity continue? When will Utah be made to know that the first duty of a State is to provide for the education of its children? A miserable shed of a school building here and there, where those who are able to pay may send their children, but from which the poor are of necessity excluded, does not meet the requirements of a republican community. Such a state of things may suit the designs of tyrants and impostors, whose power recedes as education advances, but will not do in a country where the most humble citizen ought to be the peer of the proudest ruler. But of course those "Latter Day" prophets seers, revelators,—those self-styled "counselors" of the people, are not over anxious that the mass of the rising generation should become educated, reflecting, reasoning men and women. The attrition of noble thought and intelligent action is exceedingly dangerous to usurped and tyranical power. So long as "this people" are satisfied with the only reason their bishops deign to give them,—"Brigham orders it, that is enough for you to know," so long will their thraldom be secure. We wish that a regiment of California teachers, with their indomitable and progressive State Superintendent, could be set at work here in Utah for a few years, they would speedily solve the Mormon problem, else we are no prophet!

THE DEFENDER OF POLYGAMY.—The polygamous Postmaster of Salt Lake City, and Editor of the Telegraph, is at his favorite business, doing the menial work of his most unscrupulous masters, meeting argument with cowardly insinuations, principle with vulgar and obscene abuse, degrading—if it were possible so to do—even his dog life, in hope of retaining the favor of those enemies of the race, from whose shoes he has so often licked the dust.

A coward, a sneak, a retailer of falsehood, a traducer of the christian civilization, a slanderer of woman—if the vile epithets of such a fallen wretch may be regarded as slander—a creature destitute of every manly sentiment, "in countenance a dog, in heart a fiend," ambitious only to be the cringing Pandor of the harem, soon to be ejected from the office which by his practices he disgraced, he foams and raves as if possessed.

We trust he will do himself no serious harm. We implore for such as he the retribution of life, until the people, whom by lies he has helped to reduce to serfdom, will cover him with their execrations. Many even of the Mormons now scorn and despise him, and the time is not distant when they will spit upon the slimy reptile, and kick him from their path. An abettor of assassination, inciting lawless fanaticism to crime, yet unable to look you in the eye—though loaded down with deringers, afraid to walk the streets lest some one should attempt the loathesome task of chastising him for his cowardly abuse.—Poor wretch, it is our opinion he need not fear—as for ourselves, we would as soon think of chastising a skunk. We should expect to gain as much glory in the one case as in the other. When the spitting life of him goes out, we suggest, as a winding-sheet—for such a carcass as he bears about with him, tainting the atmosphere of purity—his own vile sheet, the Telegraph, in which we look in vain for a noble sentiment, or a manly utterance.

Idaho Mines.

NEW MINES.—Great excitement exists about Susanville in regard to new discoveries in the Black Rock country. Ledges have been found four feet wide, the ore of which is as rich as the richest which ever came out of the Gould & Curry. The whole country through to Idaho is one vast bed of minery, the wealth of which it will require years to develope.—Chico Conaant.

ROCKY BAR.—A friend writing from Rocky Bar, says "the weather is clear, warm and pleasant, and the snow is melting quite fast, and does not now exceed three feet." Four quartz mills are running regularly, viz: The Harris, Weddingham, Idaho, and Major Spear's mill, and all are doing well.—World.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.]

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

Washington, March 13.

The Senate considered the bill admitting Colorado into the Union.

Trumbull advocated the bill, saying that the people had been invited to form a State Government.

Fessenden said the enabling act expired with the first refusal to organize under it.

Doolittle said the population did not exceed 25,000, having decreased since sixty-one, and he did not think Congress was bound by the enabling act.

Sumner withdrew his amendment for unrestricted suffrage in Colorado, and the vote was ordered on the third reading of the bill, which simply recognizes Colorado as a State in the Union. Defeated—ayes 14, nays 21.

HOUSE.

The House passed the Civil Rights Bill, as amended—ayes 109, nays 18.

The House resumed the consideration of the Fortification Appropriation Bill. The amendment was adopted, appropriating $75,000 for a fort at Lyon Point, where there is now only an earth battery. The bill then passed, which includes an appropriation of $90,000 for works at Alcatraz Island, San Francisco bay, and $25,000 for works at Fort Point.

GENERAL NEWS.

Washington, March 12.

A proposition on the subject of representation was offered in the Senate by Sumner, Wilson, and Grimes. Sumner's as follows: the representation shall be apportioned among the several States which shall be included in this Union according to their respective numbers which shall be determined by taking the whole number of persons excluded from elective franchise in any State, except for participation in rebellion, the basis of representation therein shall be returned in proportion, which the number excluded bears to the whole number of male citizens over 21 years of age in such State. The House decided to hold evening sessions hereafter, except on Saturday.

Chicago, March 13.

A Canada correspondent gives a plausible theory for the military hubbub, asserting it is based on no real sense of danger, but managed so it may be silenced, and confederation carried next month in Parliament. The alarm sounded so soon after the meeting of Governors in Montreal, is significant, and the belief that the whole thing is for political purposes, is taking hold of the public. If this be the real object the probability is that it will be successful, for all parties seem to have forgotton differences, for united defence.

New Orleans, March 12.

J. T. Monroe, Democratic candidate for mayor, elected, over Moore, Union, by 316 majority. Three of the four Recorders elected are Democrats, the fourth is a Unionist.

Chicago, March 13.

The New York Times says it is generally understood that the Reconstruction Committee have abandoned all hopes of getting any proposition to amend the Constitution through the Senate. If Congress does not have a care, it will go to the wall in its great controversy with the past, just because it won't do anything. Members can't agree on policy, and so Congress floats towards ruin.

New York, March 13.

The Tribune says: We entreat every earnest advocate of equal rights to give support to Doolittle's proposition. True it is not what they and we desire, but it is the means to the end, and as such should be welcomed and improved. Sumner is unhappily wise in his own conceit, and less practical, so that we shall probably be prevented from achieving any result whatever, but it is our duty to keep trying as long as a shadow of hope remains.

The World says: The President and the country have reason to be encouraged. It is now certain that none of the radical measures can prevail. Southern Senators and Representations may be kept out, but no further Constitutional Amendments can be carried through, nor any measures of mere legislation passed for oppressing and humilating the people of the South. The Radicals are defeated and confounded, and the country will enjoy their mutual recriminations and their impotent rage.

The Herald says, Congress is uncertain of its position or its duties and its powers. It is full of factions, restless revolutionary spirit; it ignores constitutional restriction of powers; it has taken the position of the Supreme Court to intrepret the Constitution by its vote; has made its central directory; its infamous committee of fifteen on executive to supersede the President, has threatened to impeach him in all ways; it assumes superiority to law and is not a Congress under the Constitution, but a faction governing in defiance of that instrument. It is from this very point in their hoisting that free government to tumble into despotism. The people are the only hope of the country.

The Boston advertiser says any measure which would satisfy Sumner and the Radicals must be added to the long list as impracticable objects. If, then, we are to go into a political agitation with no settled plan on the part of Congress, while executive influence is given to the course of action, now but too clearly defined, then we must confess the chances of the future are dark indeed, and such as any patriot might well decline to make himself in any way responsible, for if regarded in this light, Sumner's persevering objection, on the ground of theory, is something to be deplored.

Chicago, March 13.

Washington correspondence of the 10th says, Congress has introduced a bill to abolish Southern District Court in California, so that the State shall constitute one District under the officers of northern Courts, act to take effect May 1st.

Conness also introduced a bill to confirm the locations and sales under State laws of land grants made by Congress, intended to cover Bidwells bills and supposed to have the approval of the Land Department.

The President approved the bill confirming Field's Pueblo decision which passed Congress without amendment.

Senate has passed a bill granting lands to Folsom and Placerville Railroad.

Washington, March 13.

The House Speaker announced the following select committee on the civil service of the United States, and to promote its efficency; Messrs. Jenakes, Shellabarger, Hogan, Baker, McKee, Myers and James M. Humphrey. Also the appointment of Harris of Maryland, to fill vacancy in private land claims.

On motion Phelps of Maryland, of the Committee of Ways and Means was instructed to inquire into the expediency of amending the Internal Revenue law so as to remit monthly duty on average deposits of Savings Banks.

Schenck reported a bill amending the act incorporating the Military and Civil Asylum, which places the same under a board of twelve managers, like the Smithsonia Institute, whereby the difficulty of getting a quorum of the corporators together may be obviated. Bill passed unanimously by consent.

Wilson reported back the Civil Rights bill, the first section amended so as to read, "all persons born in the United States, and not subject to any Foreign Power, excluding Indians not taxed, are hereby declared to be citizens of the United States, without distinction of color; but the inhabitants of every race and color, without regard to any previous condition, shall have the right to make and enforce contracts, sue and be parties to suits, give evidence, and to inherit, purchase, lessees, sell, hold and convey real and personal property; and have full benefit of all laws for security of person or property; shall be subject to like punishment, pains and penalties and to none other, any law, statute, ordinance, regulation or custom to the contary notwithstanding." Also, following new sections: "That on all question of law arising in any case under the provisions of this act, final appeal shall be taken to the Supreme Court of the United States." Both of the above amendments agreed to.

Turkey is calling on the great powers who signed the treaty of peace to send Commissioners to Bucharest, to enquire into the abdicated of the Prince, it is understood that the conference will be held in Paris and not in Constantinople.

During the debate in the Corps Legislatif on the proposed withdrawal of the extradition treaty with England and the suspected existence of some political motive for the step M. Rouhre, Minister of State, asserted that the measure had no political significance. Notice was given to terminate the treaty because it had no satisfactory result, to the French. Government had not relinquished its hope of concluding an effectual treaty. Gardnier Badges explained the amendment proposed by the opposition.

O'Donnell had reported a bill, fixing the effective force of the Spanish army for the year at 85,000.

The London Herald says, the movement will begin for laying the Atlantic cable, during the summer. As at present arranged the Great Eastern will carry the new cable and lay it to New Foundland, she will with her consort grapple for the lost end. The locality can be ascertained within a quarter of a mile through observations, taken last summer by Capt. Anderson. It is not intended that any part of the old cable which is now in the Great Eastern, shall be again stowed in the hold on the out ward trip. It will be carried in another vessel till it is needed. Three vessels including the Great Eastern, will be provided with grappling apparatus.

Washington, March 14.

A man supposed to be Quantrell, the notorious Kansas guerrilla, has been arrested in New York and brought here. Persons have been sent for to identify him.

The reports of the Revenue Commissioner, in regard to foreign trade and domestic industry, as affecting internal revenue, was sent to Congress to day. It favors specific duties, and concludes as follows: Indications are very strong that the prompt action of Congress may be required for the relief of the country before any revision of the tariff can be effected. The great temptation to send goods to this country, and the great movement made in that direction already, has attracted attention and given us full notice that should this movement continue, it may become not only expedient but necessary for special legislation as a check upon importations, which, however beneficial to those engaged in them, cannot but bring distress on the working classes and heavy loss upon the revenue.

Chicago, March 14.

A house worth $75,000, on Harrison Avenue, St. Louis, the property of D. Nicholson, has been presented to Gen. Sherman, and the balance, $5,000, placed to his credit in the bank, by the committee of subscribers to the funds raised last August.

From Idaho.

In the World of the 3d inst. we find the following items:

THE war in Montana has commenced by a call by the Acting Governor Meagher for volunteers to move against the Blackfeet. In a speech at Helena, he announced also, that parties stood ready to furnish the expedition with provisions, on the faith of future Legislative action, and that, although he could make no positive promises of remuneration, he would nevertheless make every effort in his power to induce the payment of all expenses incurred.

Neil Howie has been appointed Colonel of the volunteers.

THE Owyhee Indian war has begun in earnest. A company has been organized in Owyhee and one at Boise City, who have gone out against the savages. Over $3,000 in money and provisions were obtained.

The regulars are also out, under Capt. Walker, who had a fight at the mouth of Jordan Creek last week, killing 26 Indians—losing one of his men. The Owyhee Company have started for the forks of the Owyhee, where they expect to find the Indians in force. The war has commenced in earnest, and the country will probably be cleared this time.

DEFALCATION IN ALTURAS.—Another defalcation is reported. W. S. Gray, an appointee to the office of Treasurer, is reported behind about $1,000—to County and Territory. He started out, was missed, and afterwards arrested by the Sheriff on Camas Prairie, and brought back. A committee has been appointed to examine his books. The amount will be paid by his bondsmen immediately.

The Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

Be tun'd to softest music, when
Of love and peace thou'rt sweetly singing;
But diamond be thy point, my pen, —— ing-
When time's dumb bells are round thee ring.

Interesting matter on every page.

Only four deaths occurred in the city of Stockton, Cal., last month.

There is a proposition on hand to start a new daily paper in Atchison.

The South has paid the National Treasury thirty million of dollars, in taxes since Jeff. Davis busted up in business.

Bancroft's oration, delivered in Washington on the anniversary of Lincoln's birth, was one of the grandest productions of the present times.

There are but few men who "can keep a hotel," but Ross & Work stand pre-eminent among those few. They never fail to give satisfaction, as the crowds that daily throng their popular Restaurant will testify.

A railroad to Denver within two years, is the rallying shout of our Colorado friends. We are with them on that shout. The first whistle of the iron horse in Salt Lake City, will cause a terrific scattering among the Polyganists.

We would advise those sneaking persons who are occasionally found prowling around Camp Douglas, at night, for the purpose of purchasing arms, to have a care else they may sooner or later realize for what purpose some of those arms are manufactured.

Camp Douglas Lodge No. 1, I. O. G. T., is effecting a glorious mission among the soldiers, and at the present time we will venture to say that there is not a more orderly, temperate body of soldiers in the United States than those in Salt Lake City.

J. Ross Brown.—Our people were somewhat disappointed that this humorous and clever writer did not accompany General McDowell and staff. He was taken ill at Soda Lake, and left at Fort Mohave. It is probable that he will visit Prescott at an early day.—Arizona Miner.

Dr. Richards, Capt. Glover and Lieut. Tubbs, late of the 1st Michigan Cavalry, left by the Western coach yesterday, en route to Michigan via San Francisco.—In the person of the Doctor, the Gentile society of Salt Lake has lost one of its most accomplished members—one whom we hoped might be induced to remain with us.

Generals of the Union Army.—During the war we had one Lieutenant-General, one Brevet Lieutenant-General, one hundred and twenty-six Major-Generals and four hundred and forty-three Brigadier-Generals. Of this number, there are now in the service one Lieutenant-General, thirty-six Major-Generals and fifty-five Brigadier-Generals.

There is to be a grand general invitation ball at the Camp Douglas Hall, on Thursday evening, March 22d, when all can have the pleasure of "triping the light fantastic toe" to the music of Heidlinger's well known quadrille band. The supper is to be served by Richardson, who never spares pains or expense to give general satisfaction.

Rumor.—It is rumored, since the visit of General McDowell to Arizona, that General Mason will soon be relieved of his command in that department, and that General Heintzelman has been ordered there to succeed him. Heintzelman is a veteran military officer, renowned as a strict disciplinarian, and for his brilliant achievements as one of the Generals of the Army of the Potomac.

The Theater Case Decided.—Yesterday, in the Probate Court, the long pending chancery suit of Moody and others vs: Potter and McLoud was decided. Everybody knows that for the last two or three months the Academy of Music, in this City, has been tied up in chancery and in the hands of a receiver. The allegations of the bill of the plaintiffs rested mainly on two grounds, viz: a mechanic's lien and fraud in the sale of the theatre to Mr. Wm. E. McLoud by Potter.

After examination of the voluminous papers and testimony in the case, in a lengthened opinion, the Court (Judge Smith) decided first, that under the Common Law no Mechanic's Lien can be enforced in this Territory, and plaintiff had not acquired any Lien by agreement or contract.

The main point, however, at issue was the question of price in the erection and sale of the building. The court emphatically remarked, as we are informed by gentlemen present, that the evidence and all the circumstances of the case, reflected not one tittle on the integrity of Mr. John S Potter. That his acts had been those of a high minded, honorable and honest man, laboring under a crushing weight of unforseen circumstances—and that in the whole case there "was apparent neither legal, equitable nor moral fraud," on the part of any concerned. The sale to Mr. McLoud was affirmed, the bill dismissed and an order issued for the Received to deliver up the building and fixtures to Mr. McLoud. The court also remarked that the case was the most important ever tried in Utah, involved many of the nicest and most complicated questions of law ever presented to a court, and took occasion to commend the attorneys on both sides for the diligence, skill and ability with with the case had been managed. It will be gratifying to the many friends of Mr. Potter, after the report of fraud which have been banded about, that the court has thus after full investigation set them at rest, and vindicated in the most signal manner his integrity and good faith. Messrs. Thurmond and Snow appeard for the Plaintiffs, and C. H. Hempstead for the Defendants.

Anglers use cotton to catch a certain kind of fish. That's the way some of the young women angle for their prey.

A Good Horse.—A writer in an English paper says: "I have lived on horseback for the last forty-five years, have rode through Arabia, Persia and Circassia, have possessed and rode horses of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, and I concur in Mr. Dickinson's views. What is required to constitute a good roadster and cavalry horse? He should have strength of loins, making him quick in getting his hind legs under him, which gives freedom and rapidity to his fore legs; his neck should be arched, he should have free shoulder action, and it is essential that he should bend his knee, which causes him to slightly draw his foot back in putting it down, making his action firm and sure, and thus when his blood is up 'he swalloweth the ground.' Such a horse obeys the motion of the rider, making the horse and rider one—a quality essential in the horse of the dragoon when using the sword. Such a horse joyously reminds the rider that the celebrated description of the horse in Job, though poetic, is no mere poetical exaggeration. It is the picture of the true horse."

The North Pacific Railroad.

The following extract from a private letter appears in the Montana Post. We are willing to run a race on the question of "cars running in Montana," before "the whistle of the locomotive is heard on the Central route in Salt Lake," provided "Brigham and every faithful brave" do not destroy all us Gentiles hereabouts:

Last winter, Congress passed a bill granting to this company alternate sections of land along the proposed route, for forty miles on each side, to aid in the construction of the work. The gentlemen nominated in the charter, endeavored to make a speculation of the land granted, but did not succeed; permitting the magnificent donation to get into the hands of gentlemen of this city, New York and other northern cities, who are determined to build the road at once. The present Governor of Vermont, Mr. Smith, at a meeting of the Directors, was elected president, Gov. Frank Fuller, vice-president, and some of the most wealthy and enterprising men of Boston, New York, Chicago and other cities, directors; among whom are Major-General Granger, Mr. Hill and other leading men of the nation. These gentlemen all pledged me that they would have the cars running in Montana before the whistle of the locomotive was heard on the central route in Salt Lake. The people are wide awake to their interests. They know that the salvation of Chicago and the interests of all the northern railroads (which are owned by Eastern capitalists) depend upon the early completion of this northern road. A party of engineers, together with the President and other officers of the road, will leave the States as early as possible in the spring, to survey the road. Col. Raymond is chief engineer. They propose to run the road from Fort Union up the Yellowstone to the Big Bend; from thence across the Beaverhead, through Hell Gate to Pen d'Oreille Lake; thence to the Spokan River, down that stream and across to Puget Sound. They will commence the work as early as July next, if possible. Their object will be to first unite the Missouri River with the Pacific, by railroad, and after that is completed to build the eastern end of the road. I am satisfied they are in earnest in the matter, and hope the people of Montana will give them all the encouragement in the way of subscriptions, etc., that lies in their power. The people of Idaho, now in this city and New York, say one million of dollars can be raised in that Territory, and I (being the only Montanian in Boston) could do no less than say that Montana would raise dollar for dollar with Idaho. Every cent that is subscribed in either of these Territories will be expended in Montana. * * * *

You may depend that the route will be explored and surveyed next spring, and the people of Montana may rest assured that they will have a road running through their Territory sooner than they anticipate, for men of energy, wealth and enterprise, whose pecuniary interests are at stake, are at work; and when the capitalists of Boston and New York unite in a scheme even of this magnitude, no obstacles can stay their purpose, and success is sure to crown their efforts.

The Angels Lucy.

Out among the sunny meadows
With the sunshine in her hair,
Bending into sheaves the shadows
That are falling here and there
Singing through the dusky valley,
Chasing echoes up and down,
Goes the little golden Lucy,
With her locks of shadowy brown.

Four sweet summer times have risen
From the green lap of the spring,
And the beauty of their garments
Has been over every thing;
Four times have the autumn meadows
Been with golden fruitage ripe,
Since the angel left her lying
'Neath the pearly gate of life.

HOW TO MAKE A PARADISE.—Buy one acre of ground Fence it. Build a neat cottage on it. Marry an angel in hoops and take her to the cottage. Go home to the cottage yourself. Abstain from all villainous drinks. Join the church and become a good christian. Live upright before God and man, and you have secured all the original happiness that has survived the fall.
